

MEDIA RELEASE

10 December 2014

RELEASE OF AUSTRALIAN LIFE TABLES 2010-12

The Australian Government Actuary today released Australian Life Tables 2010-12, which reports on the mortality of Australians in the three years centred on the 2011 Census. Australian Life Tables is published every five years.

The reported life expectancy for a newborn boy is 80.06 years, up from 79.02 years in the 2005-07 Tables. For a newborn girl the reported life expectancy is now 84.31 years, up from 83.67 years.

Australian Life Tables 2010-12 may be viewed on the Australian Government Actuary's website – www.aga.gov.au/publications. Alternatively, hardcopies may be purchased directly from the Australian Government Actuary. Contact Cathy Hogan on ph (02) 6263 4189, fax (02) 6263 2677, or email aga@aga.gov.au.

Media enquiries: Treasury media liaison - (02) 6263 2300 medialiaison@treasury.gov.au